

Continuing Education Requirements for Alaska Licensed Professional Counselors (And How to Stay on Track)

As a licensed professional counselor (LPC) in the state of Alaska, it is your responsibility to adhere to continuing education requirements each period in order to renew your license. Beyond license renewal being key to you maintaining your practice, continuing education is essential to stay abreast of what is happening in your field – something your clients will always appreciate you taking seriously. Education is how we all continue to learn and further hone our skills and expertise, so it's certainly something to be celebrated. Though education is fantastic, keeping on track with the many hours you need to fulfill can be a challenge. Thankfully, there is a fantastic resource available to help you with that. Before we dive into the resource, let's start by outlining what is required of Alaska LPCs in order to renew their license each year.

Licensed professional counselors in Alaska are required to complete 40 hours of continuing education in the two-years preceding their license's expiration. Of the required 40 hours, 20 of which must be taken live (meaning interaction in-the-moment is possible). That does not mean 20 hours must be taken in-person as virtual interactive courses and programs are permitted. Additionally, three of the required 40 hours must specifically relate to ethics in the field in order for a license renewal application to be accepted.
