

Continuing Education Requirements for Colorado Psychologists (And How to Stay on Track)

As a licensed psychologist in the state of Colorado, it is your responsibility to adhere to continuing education requirements every period in order to renew your license. Beyond license renewal being key to you maintaining your practice, continuing education is essential to stay abreast of what is happening in psychology – something your clients will always appreciate you taking seriously. Education is how we all continue to learn and further hone our skills and expertise, so it's certainly something to be celebrated. Though education is fantastic, keeping on track with the many hours you need to fulfill can be a challenge. Thankfully, there is a fantastic resource available to help you with that. Before we dive into the resource, let's start by outlining what is required of Colorado psychologist in order to renew their license each year.

Licensee Requirements for Colorado Psychologists

Colorado psychologists are expected to complete 40 hours of continuing education (or continuing professional competency, as the board calls it) each renewal cycle. The state board advises psychologists to complete a self-assessment at the start of each cycle to help licensees create their learning plan for the period. The learning plan should be maintained for ease of tracking and for auditing but is not required to be submitted with a renewal application. The required 40 hours of continuing education must be completed ahead of the licensee's biennial expiration date, with flexibility to complete all of those hours online.

Key Takeaways:

- Colorado psychologists must complete 40 continuing education hours every two years.
- All of the required hours can be completed online.
- An established learning plan should be maintained for auditing purposes.
