

Continuing Education Requirements for Idaho Marriage & Family Therapists (And How to Stay on Track)

As a licensed marriage and family therapist (MFT) in the state of Idaho, it is your responsibility to adhere to continuing education requirements each period in order to renew your license. Beyond license renewal being key to you maintaining your practice, continuing education is essential to stay abreast of what is happening in your field – something your clients will always appreciate you taking seriously. Education is how we all continue to learn and further hone our skills and expertise, so it's certainly something to be celebrated. Though education is fantastic, keeping on track with the many hours you need to fulfill can be a challenge. Thankfully, there is a fantastic resource available to help you with that. Before we dive into the resource, let's start by outlining what is required of Idaho MFTs in order to renew their license every cycle.

Licensee Requirements for Idaho Marriage & Family Therapists

Licensed marriage and family therapists in Idaho have a responsibility to complete 40 hours of continuing education every two years in order to renew their license for another cycle. At least six of those 40 hours must be in ethics related to therapy. Beyond that, all hours must be obtained through an approved activity. Approved activities are college/university courses or audits, seminars/workshops/conferences, professional publications (up to eight hours), presentations (up to eight hours), clinical supervision (up to 10 hours), dissertation (up to 10 hours), leadership (defined on page 12 here; up to eight hours), home study or online education, and board meetings (up to two hours).

Key Takeaways:

- Idaho MFTs must obtain 40 hours of approved continuing education every two years.
- Six hours need to be regarding ethics in the field.

Given marriage and family therapists are likely to achieve their continuing education certificates in increments, from various workshops, conventions, agencies, and institutions, there is a lot of documentation to keep track of (potentially 40 or more certificates throughout the course of two years). As proof is required when you apply for renewal, it's imperative you keep all of those certificates in a safe place – easily accessible and easy to track your progress. CE Hub is the safe place you need to work through your continuing education with ease.
