

Continuing Education Requirements for Indiana Marriage & Family Therapists (And How to Stay on Track)

As a licensed marriage and family therapist (MFT) in the state of Indiana, it is your responsibility to adhere to continuing education requirements each period in order to renew your license. Beyond license renewal being key to you maintaining your practice, continuing education is essential to stay abreast of what is happening in your field – something your clients will always appreciate you taking seriously. Education is how we all continue to learn and further hone our skills and expertise, so it's certainly something to be celebrated. Though education is fantastic, keeping on track with the many hours you need to fulfill can be a challenge. Thankfully, there is a fantastic resource available to help you with that. Before we dive into the resource, let's start by outlining what is required of Indiana MFTs in order to renew their license every cycle.

Licensee Requirements for Indiana Marriage & Family Therapists

Marriage and family therapists in Indiana share the exact same continuing education requirements as HSPPs, LCSWs, and LPCs in the state. MFTs in Indiana are expected to complete 40 hours of continuing education every two years if they wish to renew their license for another cycle. Those hours must be obtained before the March 31 deadline in even-numbered years. Within the required 40 hours, at least 20 need to be considered Category I education, which includes formal programming like organized courses, seminars, workshops, board-approved accredited home study, relevant college or university courses, and first-time faculty teaching. A minimum of two of the required 20 Category I hours should be on ethics (one hour each year in the licensing cycle).

CE Hub is the safe place you need to work through your continuing education with ease.
