

Continuing Education Requirements for Indiana Psychologists (And How to Stay on Track)

As a licensed psychologist in the state of Indiana, it is your responsibility to adhere to continuing education requirements every period in order to renew your license. Beyond license renewal being key to you maintaining your practice, continuing education is essential to stay abreast of what is happening in psychology – something your clients will always appreciate you taking seriously. Education is how we all continue to learn and further hone our skills and expertise, so it's certainly something to be celebrated. Though education is fantastic, keeping on track with the many hours you need to fulfill can be a challenge. Thankfully, there is a fantastic resource available to help you with that. Before we dive into the resource, let's start by outlining what is required of Indiana psychologist in order to renew their license each cycle.

Licensee Requirements for Indiana Psychologists

Psychologists licensed in Indiana are required to complete 40 hours of continuing education every licensing cycle. Each licensing cycle is two years in length, ending on March 31 of even-numbered years. Of the required 40 hours, at least 20 must be earned from Category I education, which is education that comes from formal programming such as: formally organized courses, workshops, seminars, digital home study programs accredited by organizations approved by the board, relevant college or university courses, and first-time faculty teaching. At least two of the 20 required Category I hours need to be on ethics, which should be taken at a rate of at least one per year. Note: the continuing education requirements only apply to psychologists that are endorsed as health service providers (HSPP). If you are not a HSPP, you do not need to complete continuing education.
