

Continuing Education Requirements for Kentucky Licensed Social Workers (And How to Stay on Track)

As a licensed clinical social worker (LCSW) in the state of Kentucky, it is your responsibility to adhere to continuing education requirements each period in order to renew your license. Beyond license renewal being key to you maintaining your practice, continuing education is essential to stay abreast of what is happening in your field – something your clients will always appreciate you taking seriously. Education is how we all continue to learn and further hone our skills and expertise, so it's certainly something to be celebrated. Though education is fantastic, keeping on track with the many hours you need to fulfill can be a challenge. Thankfully, there is a fantastic resource available to help you with that. Before we dive into the resource, let's start by outlining what is required of Kentucky LCSWs in order to renew their license.

Licensee Requirements for Kentucky Licensed Social Workers

In the state of Kentucky, licensed clinical social workers are required to complete 30 hours of continuing education every three years. Within those 30 hours, there are specific topic requirements to fulfill. Kentucky LCSWs must complete three hours in social work ethics every renewal cycle, three hours in domestic violence in a licensee's first renewal cycle, one and a half hours in the prevention and recognition of pediatric abuse head trauma every other cycle (every six years), and six hours in suicide assessment/treatment/management every six years. It's also important to note that LCSWs must complete their hours from activities that are offered by preapproved sponsors and providers, which can be found here.
