

Continuing Education Requirements for Michigan Licensed Social Workers (And How to Stay on Track)

As a licensed clinical social worker (LCSW) in the state of Michigan, it is your responsibility to adhere to continuing education requirements each period in order to renew your license. Beyond license renewal being key to you maintaining your practice, continuing education is essential to stay abreast of what is happening in your field – something your clients will always appreciate you taking seriously. Education is how we all continue to learn and further hone our skills and expertise, so it's certainly something to be celebrated. Though education is fantastic, keeping on track with the many hours you need to fulfill can be a challenge. Thankfully, there is a fantastic resource available to help you with that. Before we dive into the resource, let's start by outlining what is required of Michigan LCSWs in order to renew their license.

Licensee Requirements for Michigan Licensed Social Workers

Licensed clinical social workers in the state of Michigan are required to complete 45 hours of continuing education every three years. All of those 45 hours must be obtained through an approved course or program by one of these entities: the Association of Social Work Boards (ASWB/ACE), NASW- Michigan SW CE Collaborative (MICEC), or by the Board of Social Work of another state. Within the required 45 hours, five hours must be specifically related to ethics, two hours must be regarding pain management, and another two hours must be in human trafficking. Additionally, given audits are randomly conducted, it is advised that proof of continuing education be retained for five years following a renewal.

Key Takeaways:

- LCSWs in Michigan must complete 45 hours of continuing education every three years.
- Of the 45 hours, five must be on ethics, two on pain management, and two in human trafficking.
