

Continuing Education Requirements for Wisconsin Licensed Social Workers (And How to Stay on Track)

As a licensed clinical social worker (LCSW) in the state of Wisconsin, it is your responsibility to adhere to continuing education requirements each period in order to renew your license. Beyond license renewal being key to you maintaining your practice, continuing education is essential to stay abreast of what is happening in your field – something your clients will always appreciate you taking seriously. Education is how we all continue to learn and further hone our skills and expertise, so it's certainly something to be celebrated. Though education is fantastic, keeping on track with the many hours you need to fulfill can be a challenge. Thankfully, there is a fantastic resource available to help you with that. Before we dive into the resource, let's start by outlining what is required of Wisconsin LCSWs in order to renew their license.

Licensee Requirements for Wisconsin Licensed Social Workers

Licensed clinical social workers in Wisconsin are required to fulfill 30 hours of continuing education every two years in order to renew their license. All of the hours LCSWs must fulfill have to be earned through approved courses or activities, which are those offered by entities included in the bulleted list here. Of the required 30 hours, four of which have to be regarding ethics and professional boundaries related to the licensee's practice – those hours can only be obtained through interactive courses or activities, happening live or in real-time. Note: licenses expire on February 28 of odd-numbered years, so all continuing education hours need to be earned before that date.
